To obtain a graphic design position where my design and creative skills will produce a quality product for target consumers.

 About me

Nothing excites me more than challenging myself to be more creative. Working at a boutique agency helped me develop a strong design foundation that helped a number of Fortune 500 companies tell a clear and concise visual story. I am fortunate to work with very talented people who helped me hone my skills in graphic design, marketing, digital publishing, brand, animation, illustrations, print and web. I always push myself to learn more and discover new and better ways to create great design. I think of myself as an observer and a problem solver. I aspire to improve my skills and exceed expectations.
